Mr. Khan,

This is in response to your note regarding the Greengrove Estates Website. Todd Gonzales was originally one of our directors and he was the person who designed the website during that time. However, Mr. Gonzales has moved out of the development and has not given the rights to the website to the Homeowners Association and has allowed the site to become suspended. We are in the process of developing a new site utilizing Yahoo and will contact all the lot owners when this becomes available through a newsletter. Sorry for the inconvenience, but you can contact me at [REDACTED] at any time regarding questions about the HOA.
